Between a sick man and a

Minister, shewing the nature of Presumption, Despair, and the true living FAITH.

ESAY 45. 25.

1532:40

In the Lord shall all the seed of Israel bee justified, and glory.

I COR. 2. 2.

I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.

By HEN. DENNE, an unworthy Minister of Christ Jesus, at Pyrtou in Hertford shire.

LONDON, Printed for JOHN SVVEETING, at the Angel in Popes-head Alley. 1643.

To my well-beloved Friends and Brethren in the Lord, the Inhabitants of Pyrtou, in the County of Hertsford, greeting in the Lord Jesus.

Dearly Beloved in the Lord, I present these things to your view ; that you may see in a briefe conference, the sum of that Doctrine, which (through the grace of God) I have taught and you believed. I confesse you have cause to say, that you have heard many things from me, which are not here mentioned : yet this you will witnes on my behalf, that here is nothing set down, which ye have not before heard. I have in this present discourse imitated the Geographer, who intending to describe a large Countrie in a small Map, contenteth himself to set down the chiefe towns, and let the smallest villages passe without any mention. Thus have I (being to draw the substance of ten years Sermons into a few lines) contented my selfe with the description of the most materiall and fundamentall Doctrines which I have delivered unto you. And this I have done, not only to testifie my unfained love, which I beare unto you, and my ardent desire that your soules may prosper. But also to signifie unto the world, that I am ready to give an account of my Faith ; and to defend my Doctrine (against all opposers) from such clamours and aspersions as have been always laid upon it, But especially when I delivered this Sermon, which you have seen already. And I am confident I shall be able to doe this, through the grace of God, given unto me, by your ardent prayers to God for me, that utterance may be given me, that I may open my mouth boldly, and declare the mystery of the Gospell, to his glory, and your consolation. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

Your most unworthy Minister, Hen. Denny

A Conference between a sick man, and his Pastor: wherein after ordinary salutations given, and received; the Sick man beginneth thus:

Sick-man.

Sir, what judge you of my spirituall estate and condition?

Minister. Clarity judgeth the best;
but what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of a man which is in him?

Sick. I have a steadfast hope in Almighty God, that I shall be sav'd when I dye?

Min. Blessed is he that is able to give a reason of the hope that is in him, with meeknes and feare.

S. I have many reasons of my hope, first, I have an earnest desire to be saved above all things in the world

Min. This reason may deceive you; for it is written, Many shall seek to enter, and shal not be able.

S. How then doth the promise stand good; Ask and it shall be given you, seek and ye shal find, knock and it shall be opened? Mat. 7. 7, 8.

Min. This promise is not made unto every particular person; but only to the Disciples and in them to all beleevers, Mat. 21. 22. Whatsoever yee shall ask in prayer if yee believe yee shall receive it, and Job. 15. 7. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask what ye will, and it shall be done to you.
See also Mark 11. 24.

Sic.

Sic. What say you to this gracious promise? Blessed are they which hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled, Mat. 5. 6.

M. I say to this as to the former: that this promise is made only to beleevers, Lu. 6. 20. And he lifted up his eyes upon his Disciples and said, Blessed are ye that hunger, &c. Is it not said, blessed are they that mourne? yet are not all mourners blessed.

Sic. I have heard, and I think read, that a desire to believe is faith it selfe.

Mi. The poor man can tell you, that to be rich, and to desire to be rich are two things; even so is faith and a desire to believe, as all that desire to be rich, are not rich; so all that desire to believe, doe not believe.

S. Have I thus been deceived?

M. It is requisite that you first prove your self a believer and member of Christ, then may you apply these promises to your self, otherwise not so, He that believeth shall be saved: He that believeth not shall be damned, Mar. 16. 16.

S. Can you shew me any that have sought God and not found him?

M. Yes very many, for thus we read; They shall call upon me, but I will not answer: They shall seeke me early, but they shall not find me, Prov. 1. 28. Mich. 3. 4. Psal. 109. Let his prayer become sin.

S. These all sought freedome from temporall punishments onely.

M. You speak more than you have warrant, for I wil shew you men seeking after righteousness, yet have not attained unto it. Sic.

Sic. Then I shall herein be satisfied.

M. We read plainly, that Israel that followed after the Law of righteousness, hath not attained unto the Law of righteousness, Rom. 9.31. and 10.20.

S. They sought it not in Faith.

M. You say true, neither have you proved, that you seek it in faith, which so soon as you shal do, I will bee ready to minister words of comfort unto you.

Sic. Who can hold that which will away? I have used carefully all means appoynted to (salvation, for the attaining thereof.

M. These all may be cut short with, One thing lackest thou yet, Mar. 10, 21. Let me heare you give instance.

Sic. I have had a care to keep Gods Law, to do all things commanded, and to shun all things forbidden, to the uttermost of my power: and this is the second reason of my hope.

M. This I hardly believe it is like that in the Gospell, All these things have I kept from my youth. But if it be true, what can this reason avail seeing by the deeds of the Law, no flesh can be justified, as it is written Rom. 3.20.

Sic. Is it not sayd, Blessed are they that keep his testimonies? Psal. 119.2.

Min. Have you then kept the Law of God with your whole heart?

S. No, neither can any man keep it; but I have had a desire to keep it, and God accepts the wil for the deed.

M. How can that be generally true? seeing the Law

Law saith, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things that are written in the Book of this Law, to do them, Gal. 3. 10. Whereby it is plain, that the Law requires under pain of curse, not only to will, but also to do.

S. Is it not wrtten? If there be, first, a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, & not according to that he hath not, 2 Cor. 8. 12.

M. When the person is first accepted, the will is accepted for the deed: So God accepteth of Abraham; as though he had offered his son, Gen. 22. 16. But the person not accepted, the will cannot be accepted for the deed: before you can assure your self by this will; you must see that your person be accepted.

S. Cannot a man attain to life by keeping of the Law of God?

M. Yes, if he keep it in all and every poynt without any breach at all, Rom. 2. 7. Deu. 11. 26, 27. But not otherwise, for he that offendeth in one is guilty of all, Jam. 2. 10.

S. Why then doth our Saviour direct the young man in the Gospell this way? Mat. 19. 17.

M. You might have asked as well, to what purpose serveth the Law? and I should have answered you, that it was added because of transgressions, Gal. 3. 19.

S. How do you apply this to the purpose?

M. As the Law was given, that all might be concluded under sin, Gal 3. 22 Rom. 3. 9 That all the world might become guilty before God: So doth doth our Saviour give this direction unto this yong man, not that he thought it possible for him to attain life thereby: But that he might discover the pride, arrogancy, & deceitfulness of his heart, and answer him according to his own question.

Sic. I should instance in private prayer to be a mark of my salvation. I, so already it might after the same manner be rejected, unlesse I could prove it to proceed from faith.

M. You say true, works indeed are an evidence of faith among men, in the judgment of Charity, James 2. 18. But faith is an evidence of our works in the Court of Conscience, and judgment of certainty: for even the prayer of the wicked is abominable, and whatsoever is not of faith is sin, Rom. 14 23.

S. What think you of true repentance, is not that a sure mark of Salvation.

M. Without faile.

S. Then here is comfort for me for I have truly Repented.

M. Not he that approveth himself is accepted, but he whom the Lord approveth, 2 Cor. 10. 18. How know you your repentance to be true?

S. By two things, the first is, I have a hearty sorrow for all and every one of my sins.

M. All that do truly repent, do indeed heartily sorrow for sin, 2 Cor. 7. 10. But all that doe heartily sorrow for sin do not truly repent.

S. Did ever any reprobates sorrow heartily for their sins?

Min.

Mi. Yes, Cain. Gen. 4. 13. Esau, Gen. 27. 38. Judas, Mat. 27. 3. Judas repented himself, and doubtlesse all that despair doe heartily sorrow for sin, as they that are swallowed up with overmuch sorrow, 2 Cor. 2. 7.

S. I do not onely sorrow for my sins but I have also a steadfast purpose to forsake all sin, and to walk in all goalinesse.

M. Doth not our Lord Iesus tell you, that except your righteousness do exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye cannot enter into the Kingdom of God? Mat. 5. 20.

S. That any of the Scribes and Pharisees a purpose to lead a good life?

M. Heare what St. Paul (a Pharisee) saith of himselfe, that before his Conversion he was as touching the righteousness that is in the Law, blamelesse, Phil. 3. 6. Acts 22.

S. Yea but Paul persecuted the Church of God.

Mi. This indeed was a great, but yet unknown sin, but in his conceit a vertue, Phil. 3. 6. 1 Tim. 1. 13. This also may be your error, to think you doe God service, when you sin hainously.

Sic. Is it ordinary for men to be zealous before true conversion to God?

Mi. You see the unconverted Iews, of whom the holy Ghost giveth testimony. First, that they have a zeale to God. Secondly, that they seek to establish their own righteousness, Rom. 10. 2, 3.

S. I know not what more to say: if this be not true repentance, I pray what is?

Min.

Min. That shall be shewed anon, let us first heare what other evidence you have of Salvation?

Sic. I have but one only stay more, if that also fail, Lord have mercy on me.

Min. Let me heare that stay also.

Sic. I love Gods people unfainedly, with all my heart, what think you of this?

Min. Take heed your heart deceive you not, and that this prove not also a reed to lean upon.

Sic. How? This also a reed to leane on, Why? then nothing will please you, I see, 'twill be but in vaine to talke any further.

Min. Be patient (deare brother) and give me leave to search your wound to the quick, I hope it shall through Gods grace, turne to your soules welfare in Christ Iesus.

Sic. Doth not S. John say plaine, Wee know wee have passed from death to life, because we love the brethren? 1 Joh. 3.

Min. I deny not, but where unfained love to the brethren is found, it may be a testimony of grace received? But I demand how you know you love the brethren?

Sic. Why, how should I know?

Min. By this we know, If we love God and keep his Commandments, 1 Joh. 5. 2. and this is his Commandement, that we should beleieve on the name of his Son Iesus Christ, 1 Joh 3. 23. So that unlesse we beleieve truly, we cannot know we love unfainedly, therefore though our love beare wit-nesse to our Faith before man, yet our Faith bears witnesse to our love in the secrets of our heart; neither can it ever appeare to be true love, that proceeds not from a heart first imbracing Christ by Faith.

Sic. What you call true Faith, I know not: I feele my heart inflamed with love to the Brethren.

Min. Take heed your heart deceive you not; do not you know some of the children of God, and your brethren in great poverty?

Sic. Yes, I do.

Min. Why then have you not sold either the whole, or halfe of your possessions and divided among them?

S. Can I not love them unlesse I sell my possessions and divide among them?

Min. Verily no, for true love bindeth us not only to lay down our goods, for the brethren, as Acts 2. 45. but also our lives, where need requireth, 1 Joh. 3. 16, 17.

Sic. I confesse I have not thus loved them.

Min. Then have you loved them in word, and not in deed, in tongue and not in truth, 1 Joh. 3. 18.

Sic. I do beleeve that there are very few that by this marke can be assured of Salvation.

Min. I am of your mind, for when we consider our love to our brethren, to come so far short of the precept and example of our Lord, and his holy Apostles, we shall have greater cause to feare, than otherwise.

Sic. What then should S. John mean?

Min. I do for the present beleeve, untill I shall see ground to the contrary, that S. John doth principally speake of our assurance, wherby we know one another to be the children of God : By this shal all men know ye are my Disciples, if ye love one another, Joh. 13.35. Yet do I not deny but that love or any other vertue having first received testimony from Faith, may be thereby qualified to beare witnessse together with Faith, and no otherwise.

Sic. But when I cannot see, I beleeve, and yet do perceive that I love.

Min. The light of the soule is Faith : if Faith be obscured, shall not love be much more darkened ?

Sic. Alas, this was my only stay !

Min. I dare affirme that he that hath no greater witnes in himself than love to the brethren, shall never attain unto assurance of Salvation, 1 Joh. 5.10.

Sic. Is there any greater witnesse than love ?

Min. Yes, which I wonder you have not seen as yet, the spirit of God bearing witnesse to our spirits, that we are the children of God, Rom. 8.15,16 Now the Spirit beareth witnesse by teaching us to cry, Abba father.

Sic. Oh, that I had such a spirit, but wo is me, how have I hitherto been deceived ? how have I also deceived others ? my stayes are broken, and I shall be cast head long to hell.

Min. Say not so.

Sic. Yes, cursed be the time that ever I laid a foundation upon the sands. I had thought Righteousnesse had been mine, Heaven mine, but now Hell gapeth for me, and I shall be damned.

Min. As you have been hitherto deceived, so I hope you are also now.

Sic. Alas how is it possible that I should now learn the ways of salvation? When as I (as you see) have laboured so many years in vaine, and profited nothing at all in true godlinesse?

Min. Be not discouraged, only be content to heare what the Lord will speake.

Sic. Alas, I have scarce an houre to live, and is it possible to work out heaven in an houre? Is it possible that an hours repentance should make amends for sixty years ignorance?

Min. You multiply words without knowledge, which are no lesse than blasphemy: How do you think that amends can be made by you, when 60 years repentance cannot make amends for one houres negligence, and you understand not what you say, when you talk of working out Heaven.

Sic. Are there not many things to be done by us, before we can be saved?

Min. What judge you? When it is said, God hath saved us & called us, and not according to our works: but according to his own purpose and grace which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began, 2 Tim. 1. 9. Is it not spoken mystically, as well as literally? Their strength is to sit still, E say

30.9. In returning and rest shall ye be saved, in quietnesse and confidence, shall be your strength, E say 30.15. I might adde to this, stand still and behold the salvation of the Lord.

Sic. These indeed are comfortable words, But this quencheth all, in that it is said, narrow is the way, strait is the gate, and few there be that find it.

Min. This contradicteth not what hath been said, Narrow it is indeed, and strait to flesh & blood which cannot inherit the Kingdom of God, 1 Cor. 15. So narrow that the greatest wisdom of man cannot find it, 1 Cor. 2. 8.

Sic. Alas! How shall I do then?

Min. Yet not so strait, but even fooles may find it when God teacheth, 1 Cor. 1. 2. and how comfortable are the words of our blessed Saviour: Father, I thank thee that thou hast hid these things from the wise & prudent, & revealed them to babes. Are not all things possible to God?

Sic. Had any ever learnt the way to Heaven in so short a time, as I have to live?

Min. Yes, the Thiefe upon the Crosse, Mat. 27. 44. Luke 23. 42. The Iews at Peters Sermon, Acts 2. 41. The Iaylor, Act. 16. 33. with divers others.

Sic. My heart reviveth within me: The Lord teach me also; and I humbly beseech you to do your best endeavour.

Min. God forbid that I should hide any thing from you, do you acknowledge your self a wretched sinner?

Sic. Oh, miserable man that I am! Who shall deliver me from this vile estate?

Min. Do you thinke any creature is able to deliver you, or can you deliver your selfe?

Sic. Help Lord, for vaine is the help of man; who shall be able to take away my sins?

Min. Heare the goodnes of our God, who hath sent his only begotten Son Iesus Christ, to take our nature upon him, Heb. 2. 16.

Sic. This I beleeeve.

Min. This blessed Son of God, was conceived by the holy Ghost, borne of a Virgin, was without spot of sin, and in our nature hath wrought all righteounesse, and therefore by vertue of this his righteounes, might have challenged all blessings promised to the obedient, Luke 1. 32. Mar. 3. 1 Pet. 2. 22. Deut. 28.

Sic. This I also beleeeve to be most true.

Min. This same Iesus who might have challenged a blessing and freedome from the curse, yet was he contented to become a curse for us, and to suffer reproach and shame, and the death of the Crosse, Gal. 3. 13.

Sic. I beleeeve that Christ suffered such things indeed.

Min. This same Iesus hath God raised up; having loosed the paines of death, for it was not possible he should be holden of it, Act. 2. 24.

Sic. This also I beleeeve.

Min. By vertue of this precious death and satisfactory sacrifice of Iesus Christ, We are reconciled ciled to God, and have received atonement, Rom. 5. 10. freedome from all sin, with perfect righteousness, Rom. 4. 25. 6. 10.

Sic. I pray have patience, this is more than I yet beleeve, that Christ hath fully freed any from all sin in this life.

M. Yes, from the imputation of sin, as is plain, by him ye are justified from all things, Act. 13. 39. & the blood of Jesus Christ his Son purgeth us from all sin, 1 Ioh. 1 9. See Eph. 5. 27. and Col. 1. 12. To make you holy and unblameable and without fault, &c.

Sic. This I cannot deny, yet do I not so fully conceive it.

Min. Christ Iesus our Lord hath taken our sins upon himself, Esay 53. 4. 2 Cor. 5. 21. and by his death and suffering hath given a full, perfect and sufficient satisfaction to God the Father, Mat. 3. 17. Heb. 10. 14. as having borne all punishments due unto sin by the Law, as well temporall as eternall.

Sic. That Christ Iesus hath freed his elect from all eternall punishments, I confesse, but I do not beleeve that he hath freed them from temporall.

Min. I will aske you one question, was not the satisfaction of the second Adam, as effectuell to our righteousness, as the transgression of the first Adam to our unrighteousnesse?

Sic. I dare not say the contrary, for the Apostle saith no lesse, Rom. 5.

M. But by the transgression of the first Adam, we were made subject both to temporall and eternall punishments: Therefore by the satisfaction of our Lord Christ, the second Adam, we are made free from both.

Sic. Yet doe we not see that the people of God have many punishments laid upon them, in this present life as weaknes, sicknesse, death?

Min. They are fatherly chastisements, rather than punishments, for when we are judged we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world, 1 Cor. 11. 32.

Sic. Let God be just, and every man a lyar, I pray proceed.

M. By vertue of the Lord Christs satisfaction unto Divine Iustice. Gods Wrath is appeased. Mat. 3. 17. Sin is taken away. Ioh. 1. 29. Never to be remembred any more, Heb. 8. 12.

S. Lord, so take mine away: But I pray when is the time that sin is taken away out of the sight of God?

M. Remission of sins is even as ancient as satisfaction for sin & at what time Christ Iesus taketh our sins upon himself, at the same time are the persons of Gods elect just before the Tribunall of Almighty God.

Si. I pray you shew us authority for this for I have always learned that faith it self, is in order of causes before our actuall justification in the sight of God.

M. That the act of our faith is a consequent of our justification, and not an intercedent is plain: God justifieth the ungodly: We were reconciled to God, by the death of his son when we were enemies mies; Rom. 5. 10. Now believers cannot be called enemies, but friends. But we were reconciled when we were enemies, Esay 32. 17. The effect of righteousness is assurance. They that are ingrafted into Christ Iesus are justified: But we must be ingrafted into Christ Iesus before we can believe, Therefore we must be justified before we can believe.

Sic. How doe you prove we must be ingrafted into Christ Iesus before we can believe?

M. To believe is a good fruit, but we can beare no good fruit untill we be ingrafted into Christ Iesus: I am the vine, ye are the branches; without me ye can do nothing, Ioh. 15 5. The branch cannot bear any fruit, except it be incorporated into the Vine.

S. Do we not read, whom he hath calleth, them he justifieth? where you see that justified is set before called.

M. The order of words prove nothing: was it not a ridiculous conceit of the Rabbi, that undertakes to prove unto us, that a certaine bullock had horns before hoofs, because it is said Ps. 69 better than a bullock which hath horns & hoofs, and have you forgotten that place which I spake of even now, who hath saved us and called us? where you see saved set before called.

Sic. I now see plainly that the world is in darknes, I doe perceive that justification in Gods sight, goeth before faith: but I doe not yet perceive that remission should be as ancient as satisfaction.

M. St. Peter saith, that Christ bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that wee being delivered from from sin, should live in righteousness, 1 Pet. 2. 24. St. John tells us Christ took them away: Behold yee the Lamb of God that taketh away the sins of the world; if the justice of God hath layd all our iniquities upon his back, hath not his mercy taken them from us? If the Lord Christ did take them away, then are they no more.

Sic. This is plaine.

Min. I can shew you this by many more arguments, when opportunity shall serve.

Sic. I pray goe forward where you left.

Min. This same Iesus is ascended up into heaven, & there he sitteth for ever at the right hand of God, to make intercession for us; by vertue whereof, we have boldnesse of accessse unto the throne of grace, knowing that as our persons are accepted, so are our prayers respected in his presence, Heb. 4; 16. Ioh. 16. 23.

S. These indeed are comfortable words to them that have Christ; but how shal Christ be made mine? what works are required of me before Christ can be made mine?

M. You erre greatly, neither knowing the scripture, neither the power of God, nor yet remembering what you granted even now.

Sic. I pray shew me my error.

M. First, Christ is not made ours, neither applied unto us, by any works of the Law, Gal. 3. 2. 11. Sic. This indeed is an error.

M. Your supposition is also absurd, namely, that it is possible for you to doe good workes before you you have Christ, when as before wee said, you must have Christ before you can do any good works; without me ye can do nothing.

S. This was my conceit indeed, that by working righteousness, a man was made righteous.

M. You see the contrary hath bin proved true; First, make the tree good, and then his fruit good, Matthew 7: a man must first be righteous, before he can work righteousness; good manners doe not make a good man: but a good man worketh good manners.

S. I acknowledge my blindness, I pray then how is Christ made ours?

M. Christ is made ours by Gods imputation or accounting, Rom. 4.3.9.

S. I greatly desire to hear this more fully explained.

M. Look by what way or means our sins were made Christs; after the same manner, and by the same means, his righteousness is made ours: But our sins became his, by Gods accounting, as the Lord laid on him the iniquity of us all, so by the same account of God (who calleth things that are not as though they were) his righteousness is made ours: as he became sin for us, so are we made the righteousness of God in him: Thus are we justified freely by his grace, by his blood: Thus it is God that justifieth.

S. I pray resolve me one doubt: How we are said to be justified by Faith.

M. Faith is taken two ways; first, for the object of our faith: that is, the thing which we do believe believe, as also hope is taken (Christ our hope) so we are justified by faith, that is, by the blood of Jesus Christ. Secondly, faith is taken for the act of our faith, beholding the glorious object, and so we are assured of our justification: Justified before God by the object of our faith, assured by the act of our faith, apprehending this object.

Sic. I perceive now that they onely are righteous whom God accounteth righteous, whose salvation is wrought in Christ Jesus. How shall I know whether Christ hath satisfied for me, and so whether God accounteth me righteous or not?

M. The knowledge of this cometh by faith, for the promise is made to believers, Job: 3. 16. And this is the proper office of faith, to be perswaded of Gods mercy to us in particular, Rom 8. :8.

Sic: Is nothing else required at our hands to procure assurance, but onely to believe?

M: When the soul is loaden with the burthen of sin, & fence of misery, it is sufficient for assurance to believe God in his promises, & we read of nothing else, Act: 16: 31. Believe in the Lord Jesus

Sic: What think you of repentance, is not that also necessary?

M: You now give me just occasion to shew you that which before you desired; namely, what is true repentance.

Sic: That have I longed for all this while; I pray declare it unto me.

M: Repentance is a contrition or sorrow for sin, which with is joyned with faith in the Lord Iesus Christ

S: You make faith a part of repentance, have you any authors for this?

M: Yes, as the learned know: But I wish you not to build your confidence on men, but upon the testimony of Gods word.

S: I pray shew me where this description can be warranted by Gods Word?

M: That repentance under the new covenant doth comprehend faith, will be plain, if you compare the 16 ch. of the Acts v: 31: with Acts 2: 38: in the first place the question is, what shall I do to be saved? the answer is, Believe, &c: In the 2: of the Acts the question is the same, and is answered by Peter, Repent and be baptized; therefore either repentance must include faith, or else St. Peter giveth not a full answer.

S: This is very likely to be so, and there we see that they are bidden to repent, who were pricke in the heart already.

M: Is it said that Joh: Bap preached Repent. &c: Mat: 3: S: Paul expounding this Act: 19: 4: saith that Joh: preached the Bapt: of Repent: saying that they should believe; what more plain than this?

S: Why doth the holy Ghost use this word repent?

M: It is a very fit word, which signifieth, change your minds; now we know the people of the Iews, being under the Law, did seek to establish their own righteousness thereby, which being impossible, the holy Ghost doth very significantly use this word; that all men should repent

repent (that is) change their minds, and look no longer for righteousness from the Law; but look unto the author of their salvation before promised, but now at the last manifested.

S. Is not newnes of life a part of repentance?

M. Yes, Faith is our new life; the just shall live by faith; Rom. 1. 17.

Sic. Are not good works a part of repentance?

M. They are rather termed in the book of God fruits meet for repentance, Mat. 3. 8. Act. 26. 19. and fruits worthy of repentance.

Sic. Why are they so called?

M. Because they that repent, should be carefull above all things to deny all ungodlines and worldly lusts, and to live soberly, righteously, & godly in this present world, Tit. 2. 12.

Sic. I remember I have read of repentance and faith, as two things in Scripture.

*M. I do not say they are altogether one and the same, but differ as the part and whole; moreover repentance is sometimes taken in scripture for an alteration of some one particular act: But that which I have declared, is what Iohn and our blessed Saviour do mean by this word Repent, for the kingdom of God is at hand.*

S. You said before, that for assurance I must believe; what must I believe?

M. That God hath forgiven you your sinnes, and given you eternall life in his son, 1 Ioh. 5. 11.

Sic. Can you shew me any reason why I should believe this, rather than Judas?

Min.

M. You must not look at reason; but imitate father Abrahā, who against hope believed in hope, Rō. 4.

S. God doth not say to me in particular, that my sins are forgiven.

M. If you will beleeve it, he speaketh to you in particular, for he speaketh to every beleever.

S. I am a miserable sinner.

M. Otherwise what need had you of Christ, who came to call sinners? Consider not the greatness of your sins, but be strong in Faith, giving glory to God, being fully perswaded that what he hath promised, he is able to performe, Rom. 4. 21. Though your sins were as red as scarlet, I will make them as white as snow, Esay 1.

S. If I were as holy as Peter, or Paul, I could then beleeve.

M. Holinesse cannot go before Faith, but must follow it; look not upon your selfe, but upon the sufficient satisfaction of Christ Iesus, Come unto him loaden, and he shall ease you, Matth. 11. 28. Thirsty, and he shall refresh you, Iohn 7. Empty, and he shall fill you, Luke 1.

S. I am loaden, Lord ease me; How do men come by Faith?

M. Faith is the gift of God rought in the heart by hearing of the word of promise, Rō. 10. 17. Gal. 3. 2. w^{ch} word hath been already spoken to you.

S. Oh, How slow am I to beleeve? Lod help my unbelcfe; let me intreat you and the rest of this Christian company to cal upon God, that I may believe & grow in this perswasion of the free pardon, & forgiveness of sins in Christ Iesus.

Mi.

M. With all my heart, the Lord heare our prayer; O Lord, thou art God which hast made heaven and earth, and all that in them is; who by the mouth of thy holy child Jesus, hast promised that whatsoever we aske in his Name, thou wilt grant unto us. O Lord, behold thy servant, & grant him thy grace, that he may be filled with thy holy Spirit of Wisdom, and understanding, & revelation in the knowledge of Christ Jesus; that the eyes of his understanding being inlightned, he may know the hope of thy calling, and the riches of thine inheritance in the Saints, that he may be filled with righteousness and peace, and joy in the holy Ghost; good L. sanctifie him wholly, and let his whole spirit and soule, & body be preserved blamelesse, unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ Amen. Sic. Amen, Amen. May it not prove presumption in me to beleieve the pardon of my sins?

M. Not so long as you beleieve them pardoned, not for your merit, but for Gods mercy sake.

S. My merit is nothing, his mercy is over all; How great is the goodness of God toward me, who hath forgiven mine iniquity, and pardoned my sin. Lord now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, for mine eyes have seen thy salvation.

M. Blessed be the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who leaveth us not destitute of his mercy.

S. Now what shall I render unto the Lord for his mercy? for the forgiveness of my sins, and the gift of his holy Spirit.

M. You are to present your body a living sacrifice, holy, & acceptable unto God; & be not conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, Rom 12.

S. The Lord direct me in all my ways, I desire to receive from your hands the holy Communion for the increase of my weak faith, and in remembrance of the precious Passion of my Blessed Saviour; And now whether I live or dye, the halfe of my goods will I give to the poore, and if I have taken any thing from any man by forged accusation, I restore him fourefold.

M. Glory be to God, who can deny Salvation to be come to this house, forasmuch as it hath pleased God to begin this good work? which he continue unto the end, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen. Εὐχαριστοῦμεν ἰ' νοῦ.
